Gentlemen:

I have 5 gold coins three Turkish and two ancient Greek or Roman. They have been in our family for years and I should like to know their value. Shall I have to send them to you, or you'll send me a catalogue with the pictures of coins?

You have been recomended to me by the Minneapolis Tribune

Hoping to hear from you soon

Yours truly
Frank Ryde

Dear Sir:-

There is no catalogue of ancient Greek or Roman gold coins or of Turkish gold coins which is satisfactory as far as prices are concerned. We could probably assist you in valuing your pieces if you could send us rubbings of them, although even this is a rather uncertain method because the value of these pieces is not only determined by what they are but by the condition in which they are found, and this can only be determined by actually seeing the coins.

Very truly yours,

Assistant to Curator.
